DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 25 and 26 recite a computer readable medium. However, the original disclosure fails to describe and/or interpret the computer readable medium. The disclosure fails to mention a computer readable medium. Thus the claims contain subject matter which was not described in such a way as to reasonably convey to one even one skilled in the relevant art that the inventors, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 25 and 26 are directed to non-statutory subject matter. Since the computer readable medium was not described in the original disclosure as stated above, it can be interpreted as "transmission media", "carrier wave" or any type of signals which falls under non-statutory subject matter.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 3-16, 18-21, and 23 are allowed.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patent to Chitturi et al. (US 6,760,780 B1) teaches an aspect of proxying telephony messages.
